METSO AND SVEDALA CREATE A WORLD LEADER IN ROCK AND MINERAL PROCESSING TECHNOLOGY

Metso Corporation is making a recommended cash offer to acquire the entire stock of Svedala (listed on the OM Stockholm Stock Exchange), a global supplier of products and services for rock and mineral processes with annual net sales of EUR 1.6 billion. Metso's plan is to combine its rock and mineral processing business group Nordberg with Svedala. The acquisition is subject to Metso obtaining acceptances from Svedala shareholders representing 90 per cent of Svedala's share capital and approval by relevant competition authorities.

- Metso Corporation ("Metso") is making a recommended cash offer to the shareholders of Svedala Industri AB ("Svedala") of SEK 185 per share whereas holders of convertible debentures are offered SEK 245 per convertible debenture with a nominal amount of SEK 234 (the "Offer"). The Offer represents a total value of SEK 9,118 million (EUR 1,105 million). Including Svedala's net debt as of March 31, 2000, the transaction is valued at SEK 13,708 million (EUR 1,660 million).
- The Offer for the shares represents a premium of approximately 54% to the closing share price on June 20, 2000 and 29 % based on the average for the last 12 months prior to announcement of the Offer.
- Metso will combine Nordberg, its rock and mineral processing business, with Svedala to create one of the global market leaders in the supply and service of processes and related equipment for the civil engineering, construction and mineral processing industries.
- The combination of Svedala and Metso will result in synergy benefits which Metso expects to amount to more than EUR 70 million when fully implemented and Metso estimates that the transaction will enhance earnings per share in the first full year of consolidation. The combined 1999 net sales of Metso (adjusted for the sale of Timberjack and acquisition of Beloit) and Svedala totaled EUR 4.8 billion with rock and mineral processing contributing 42%, fiber and paper technology 40%, automation and control technology 12% and others 6%.

- After having made a carefully considered assessment of the Offer and with the support of the fairness opinions from Lehman Brothers and Enskilda Securities, the Svedala Board of Directors appointed by the shareholders has unanimously concluded that the Offer is fair and consequently recommends the shareholders to accept it.
- Metso has received irrevocable undertakings from AB Custos and has obtained commitments to receive such undertakings from members of the board to accept the Offer in respect of their shares. These undertakings represent in total approximately 13% of the issued share capital of Svedala.
- Prior to the announcement Metso owned and controlled 0.51% of the shares and votes of Svedala.

Background to and reasons for the offer

Combining the operations of Nordberg and Svedala will create one of the global market leaders in the supply and service of processes and related equipment for the civil engineering, construction and mineral processing industries.

The large combined installed machine base together with the strength and wide geographical reach of the combined distribution and service network will significantly enhance Metso's growth prospects in rock and mineral processing and as a whole.

"The acquisition of Svedala represents a further step in Metso's outlined strategy and it further increases the service element of Metso's business mix in line with our strategic intent and Future Care concept. Metso's business portfolio will be better balanced and less cyclical after the acquisition", says Pertti Voutilainen, the Chairman of the Board of Metso Corporation.

"Combining the businesses allows Nordberg and Svedala to develop service and other customer support activities further and thereby better address the rapidly evolving needs of increasingly global customers in a consolidating but growing industry," says Heikki Hakala, the President and CEO of Metso Corporation. "Our customers are increasingly asking us for a service presence closer to the installed base all over the world, broader service and parts offerings and continuous process engineering support as well as for new, more efficient products to improve the efficiency of their production processes. The considerable process automation expertise of Metso's automation business offers very interesting opportunities to embed intelligence into machines and processes and thereby offer totally new value adding control, monitoring and process optimization options to our customers. By combining our resources, we will be in much better position to do all this."

The Chairman of Svedala, Rune Andersson, comments: "Svedala has been built to a global company over the past 12 years from SEK 500 million (EUR 60 million) to SEK 14 billion (EUR 1.6 billion) in sales through organic growth and acquisitions. The combination of Metso and Svedala has compelling industrial logic and we consider it to be positive for our customers and employees. I view Metso as a logical and long-term industrial owner".

Plans after the completion of the transaction

Svedala's culture, basic strategies and strong focus on after-market services are all well in line with Metso's strategies and integration of the rock and mineral processing activities is expected to take place smoothly. Metso plans to review immediately after the completion of the acquisition the manufacturing, service, distribution and other operations of Svedala and Nordberg and integrate them. Svedala's existing rationalization program will be continued and implemented as planned.

The plan is to maintain the main brand names of both companies.

Employee benefits are expected to stay in line with current practices. Key members of the top management team of Svedala have agreed to remain with the new company.

UBS Warburg is acting as financial advisor to Metso and Lehman Brothers as financial advisor to Svedala in connection with this offer.
